

A long time ago in a galaxy far, far away...

STAR WARS

EPISODE VII

THE FORCE AWAKENS

The galaxy is at war. 200 years have passed since the destruction of the second DEATH STAR and the crushing defeat of THE EMPIRE... but a new evil is rising. A mysterious group of strangers have begun appearing out of nowhere to cause death and destruction. THE ALLIANCE have no leads, and citizens are terrified.

A once great warrior defends his home of KASHYYYK as KYLO REN, leader of the mysterious group, lays siege.

INT. KASHYYYK HOME - DAY

Two Wookies run into a beautiful wooden hut, one barely makes it as a laser speeds right past, almost hitting him. WOOKIE #1 yells in his native tongue. We pan towards CHEWBACCA. He is adorned with jewels and a crown. He is a leader. A human-like droid stands next to him, with beautiful, gold trimmings on a silver body.

DROID

They caught us by surprise, but we are fine. We have our troops gathering behind the frontline. We just need to hold them there for a little while longer.

CHEWBACCA roars once again, he stands up slowly, noticeably older than we once knew him.

DROID (CONT'D)

Don't go sir. Let the troops fight this. You are needed here.

CHEWBACCA roars again. He leaves anyway, with the two wookies in tow.

EXT. KASHYYYK BATTLEFIELD - DAY

We see the battle in motion. Thousands of masked troops storm the fields, all wearing black adorned with red trimmings.

Huge centipede-like walkers crawl onto the beach, shooting rockets and heavy gatling lasers at everything they see. Dropships land on the beach, as more troops get out. As we get closer, we see heavy troopers with miniguns and rocket launchers alongside the regular grunts.

The huge, KASHYYYK trees stand tall. Thousands of WOOKIEES are defending their homes. They shoot lasers back, with noticeable less power. A few X-WINGS fly between the massive branches, gunning down several enemies.

A wave-like formation of enemies march toward the trees, further in-land than the beach. They are unstoppable. Countless wookies are killed. It's a massacre.

EXT. KASHYYYK MUD FIELD - DAY

Enemy troops walk through some thick ankle-deep mud, separate from the rest of the battle. They are searching for any stragglers. REY is hiding in a bush, as the troops walk by. She clenches her staff, desperate to make a move. REY is a young woman, dressed in a yellow robe. She has dirt over her.

CHILD

Rey please, don't.

REY

Why not?

CHILD

We can hide, they won't see us.

REY

And when they see someone else? What then?

The CHILD goes silent. REY makes a move. She jumps out of the push, trips one soldier over and hits another aggressively. Two more aim their guns, but she is too fast. She disarms and knocks them all out. The CHILD looks star-struck. Suddenly, an enemy ship begins landing in a nearby thicket. The CHILD runs the other way, as REY gets ready to fight.

EXT. KASHYYYK SECOND BATTLEFIELD - DAY

The enemy secured the beach and have been making further advances. They reach a treeline. The huge centipede walkers, known as AT-DB's continue alongside. Smaller AT-ST 2's with 4 legs instead of 2, join the frontline. Suddenly, a rocket shoots towards an AT-DB and stays still for a second, until the opposite end of the vehicle explodes. The rocket burrowed quietly and blew up the inside. The vehicle drops to the ground. Lasers suddenly come out of the trees, and the wookies begin to appear. Hundreds of them begin to take on the thousands of enemy troops. The wookies charge and engage in hand-to-hand combat. Proving effective. CHEWBACCA is at the back, shooting his BOWCASTER and assisting. KYLO REN then appears, seemingly out of thin air. He is dressed in all black, with a mask similar to his idol DARTH VADER. The WOOKIEES are shocked and turn their fire to him, but he stops all lasers dead in their tracks as his troops engage in the now distracted friendly forces.

CHEWBACCA
(Roars deeply)

CHEWBACCA drops his weapon and walks towards KYLO REN. He is ready for an honorable battle to the death. KYLO REN, standing around 20 feet away from his opponent, raises his hand in an eerie fashion, then signals to CHEWBACCA. CHEWBACCA is unceremoniously shot in the stomach by a distant sniper, and lurches forward to the ground. KYLO REN does not play by the rules.

EXT. KASHYYYK BEACH

REY is fighting in a different location, she bounces from various trenches and ditches and continues to engage enemies with her staff, while using a laser pistol in her off hand.

She sees the death of CHEWBACCA and yells a piercing yell. KYLO REN turns to see her. REY sprints over until within striking distance. The enemy troops surrounding him don't shoot, as they know what is about to happen.

Using THE FORCE, KYLO REN freezes REY. She is completely still, besides her face.

REY
You scumbag! I will kill you and every last one of your lackeys.

KYLO REN
Why don't you try? Go on, strike me down.

KYLO REN moves his face within inches of REY's.

REY

You're a cheat. Free me and face me like a man.

KYLO REN

Why would I not use the abilities so gracefully cast down to me? Why give myself a disadvantage?

REY

Some of us don't have those abilities, it's hardly fair.

KYLO REN

And life isn't fair. Just look at him.

KYLO REN points at the corpse of CHEWBACCA. REY roars in anger.

And who even are you? Just some scientist? A doctor?

REY

I am Rey. Once a flora scientist on Kashyyyk, now the person who will kill Kylo Ren.

KYLO REN

How scary. I was going to kill you, but you sound fun. I will let you live, but you know... life isn't fair.

KYLO REN ignites his lightsaber, and slowly begins cutting REY's left arm off at the shoulder. He does it slowly, and enjoys the ear-bursting screams of pain coming from REY. As he does this, all of the enemy troops begin to retreat and load up into various vehicles. The enemy is leaving.

EXT. KASHYYYK SPACE

The enemy ships leave the atmosphere. As you expect them to enter hyperspeed, they simply vanish.

CUT TO:

EXT. KASHYYYK BEACH - DAY

REY is laying alone on the beach holding the spot where her arm once was. A large amount of WOOKIES run over and check on her, as she is carried away to safety. A larger number of WOOKIES stand around the corpse of CHEWBACCA and make sad growls to one another.
